Oxford Roads 9 and 10 construction update

Oxford Road 9 (Hamilton Road/King Street West) and Oxford Road 10 (Ingersoll Street South) intersection improvements to continue in 2027

About this project

Infrastructure improvements on Oxford Road 9 (Hamilton Road/ King Street West), including the intersection of Oxford Road 10 (Ingersoll Street South), will pause in November 2026 before beginning again in early 2027. The road will reopen and the intersection will operate as an all-way stop for the winter season. Traffic is required to use the existing detours until the road and intersection reopen.

Main detour: Oxford Road 10 (Ingersoll Street North), Road 60, Elgin Road and Hamilton Road

Additional detour (intersection): Oxford Road 10 (Ingersoll Street South), Thomas Street and Whiting Street

Infrastructure work on Oxford Road 9 from CPKC Railway west to the Town of Ingersoll boundary began in spring 2026. This project included relocating utilities; installing sanitary sewer, storm sewer and watermain; and construction of the new urban cross section for the roadway to base asphalt elevation. Crews will return in 2027 to apply surface asphalt and complete restoration work.

This year, preliminary work at the intersection of Oxford Roads 9 and 10 included installing a large sanitary manhole and relocating hydro poles. In 2027, work will include new curb, sidewalk, traffic signals and street lighting, and replacement asphalt.
